28316862	Refused	ID:- Applicant has not satisfied the qualifying criteria, as per 18.1 of the Policy Document on Family Reunification' where, The issue of elderly dependent parents has arisen in a number of cases involving both Irish and non-EEA national sponsors. This form of migration can, however, be hugely problematic and is subject to considerable restriction in many jurisdictions, in some cases with extreme waiting times. It is of course entirely understandable that an Irish citizen or a non-EEA national lawfully resident in the State would wish to have his or her elderly parent residing with them so as to ensure their wellbeing as they get older and for the general enrichment of family life. However, it must also be acknowledged that the potential financial liability for the State of providing medical treatment, perhaps nursing home care and other services to an elderly person who is unable to support themselves is very considerable. ID:- Applicant has not satisfied the qualifying criteria, as per 18.2 of the Policy Document on Family Reunification' where, The Irish State is simply not in a position to take on financial responsibilities of this nature, nor should it be expected to do so. Moreover, even where the family in Ireland is willing to assume the initial responsibility of providing for their relative and has a good faith intention to continue to do so, circumstances can change. If the family becomes unable or unwilling to assume the costs of maintenance, then the State could be faced with an invidious choice between assuming the financial burden from the public purse or seeking to deport an elderly person who cannot provide for him/herself. This is not to say that there should be an absolute bar on all such applications but rather that a highly restrictive approach should be taken. Ultimately emigration, including that by Irish people, is undertaken with no legitimate expectation of ever being joined by parents.

30242502	Refused	ID:- Authenticity of documents - As set out at in decision at first instance, the applicant submitted fraudulent documentation with the clear intent to misrepresent his\her particular circumstances. The decision of the visa officer at first instance was to refuse the granting of the visa sought and to impose a prohibition on further visa applications for a period of five years. Further detail in this regard is as set out in decision letter on appeal. ID:- Insufficient documentation submitted in support of the application:- Applicant was granted a visit visa previously. In any event, in circumstances where the applicant cannot provide evidence of compliance with previous visa i.e. via immigration stamps, the onus rests with them to demonstrate via other verifiable means that conditions of previous visa grant were observed. OB:- Obligations to return to home country not shown - e.g.no social, economic or professional ties in home country shown; OC:- Condition - The applicant may overstay following proposed visit; OC:- Observe the conditions of the visa - the visa sought is for a specific purpose and duration:- the applicant has not satisfied the visa appeals officer that such conditions would be observed. The visa appeals officer is not satisfied to grant the visa sought. Having considered this study visa application in the round, the visa appeals officer is not satisfied to grant the visa sought. Issues and concerns surrounding finances remain. Insufficient documentation provided on appeal to sufficiently support evidence stated particulars and circumstances surrounding source of lump sum lodgements and stated familial relationships. On appeal, the applicant states his/her intentions of an extended study plan to that set out at first instance. Reasonable concerns arise that the applicant's stated financial sponsor is not in a position to make good on financial undertakings provided. The sponsor's purportedly sufficiently strong financial and economic position is not borne out by the evidences provided. Having considered the full circumstances of this visa application in the round, the applicant has not demonstrated, to the satisfaction of the visa appeals officer, a credible need to undertake the proposed course of studies in this State. Reasonable concerns arise in respect of the financial capacity of the applicant's stated sponsor. Further, reasonable concerns arise that study may not be the primary purpose of the visa sought. The decision to refuse the granting of the visa sought at first instance has been upheld following appeal.
