All submissions made on appeal have been considered however, the applicant has not demonstrated sufficient social, economic, professional and/or family ties in country of origin that would, when considered in the round, satisfy the visa appeals officer that his/her return to the country of origin following the proposed visit is necessitated/obligated; OC:- Condition - The potential cost of this trip is high in comparison to the applicant's means, and given that no compelling reasons for the trip have been displayed, the visa appeals officer is not satisfied of the applicant's intentions to leave the State following his/her proposed visit. It is noted that the applicant is proposing to visit his/her family member. However, the cost of the proposed trip, bearing in mind the applicant's submissions on appeal, i.e. other financial obligations and dependence on other stated family members in his/her country of origin could, when considered in the round, be deemed to be at odds. OC:- Observe the conditions of the visa - the visa sought is for a specific purpose and duration:- the applicant has not satisfied the visa appeals officer that such conditions would be observed. Having considered the full circumstances of this visa application, in the round, reasonable concerns arise that the applicant may not observe the conditions of a 'visit' visa in circumstance where one was to be granted. A consequent reasonable concern arises that the applicant, where granted entry to the State, may overstay or that he/she may seek to change/vary his/her permission to remain. The onus rests with the applicant to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the visa decision maker that their particular case warrants the granting of the visa sought. The applicant has not done so in this instance. Accordingly, the decision to refuse the granting of the visa sought at first instance has been upheld following appeal. |

| 31195352 | Refused | F:- Finances shown have been deemed insufficient - This issue\concern refers to the financial economic position of the applicant's stated sponsor. Applicant's sponsor has not demonstrated that he\she has sufficient economic capacity to make good on undertakings provided outside of other obligations\financial commitments, he\she may have e.g. other family members. Funds stated to be available to the applicant's sponsor noted to be insufficient on a frequent basis. F:- Finances:- evidence provided is deemed insufficient or incomplete - Applicant on appeal provided documentation to corroborate that his\her other parent had provided one lump sum amount of monies noted at first instance. Whilst details surrounding the stated origin of the transfer have within reason been established, the source of monies evident in the account of that parent referred to have not been detailed. The decision maker at first instance also made mention of multiple unexplained lump sum lodgements in the bank account of the applicant. Whilst the source of one lodgement has been addressed, i.e. one monetary transfer from one of the applicant's parents, the source of multiple other large credit lodgements have not been explained. Having considered the particulars of this issue, the visa appeals officer is not satisfied that the applicant has sufficiently addressed or addressed at all this issue raised at first instance. ID:- Insufficient documentation submitted in support of the application:- Applicant did not provide any salary payment documentation in respect of his\her employment. No evidence of salary having been paid for applicant's stated employment. As a result, the applicant has not sufficiently demonstrated or evidenced his stated employment. SP:- Previous educational or employment background is at odds with course applied for. Having considered the applicant's educational profile, the visa appeals office is not satisfied that the applicant has demonstrated sufficient reasons to undertake the proposed course of studies in this State. In arriving at this conclusion the applicant's educational history in another EU State has been factored into the final decision arrived at. Further, reasonable concerns arise that that applicant may not have the academic ability to undertake and successfully complete the proposed course of studies in the prescribed time frame. Having considered the full circumstances of this visa application in the round, reasonable concerns arise that study may not be the primary purpose of the visa sought. The onus rests with the applicant to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the visa decision maker that the visa sought should be granted. The applicant has not satisfied the visa appeals officer that the granting of the visa sought is warranted in this instance. Accordingly, the decision to refuse the granting of the visa sought at first instance has been upheld following appeal. |
